ABR Special Issue — ICCEC Conference 2017

Research about the future of Clinical Ethics is more important than ever. In the constantly changing arena of healthcare delivery, ageing populations, globalization, cultural diversity and migration, we face an increasing need to discuss best practices, debate and share ideas, and shape the evolution of healthcare ethics and professionalism.

We are pleased to announce a Special Issue of the Asian Bioethics Review on issues from the 13th Annual International Conference on Clinical Ethics Consultation (ICCEC) 2017.

This Special Issue will be edited by Guest Editors Professor Marin Gillis (Florida International University, Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine) and Sumytra Menon (NUS Centre for Biomedical Ethics). This will be the first issue in our 10th volume series, and will run as our March 2018 Issue. (Submission Deadline: 31 Aug 2017)

If you are interested in contributing to the ABR, please join us at the Affinity Meeting on 26 May for more information on this Special Issue!
